SARAH ECKLER

Communication is one of our original and most important values, and is continually redefined by this years ambassador, Sarah Eckler!

Sarah is thoughtful, passionate, inspiring, and very articulate in all her communication to the company! The way she explains the why of anything we are doing, or the story behind whatever a request or new initiative is, she creates inspiration, ownership, and buy in from all partners. She is urgent yet patient, detail oriented, a walking library, impassioned, a great listener, and extremely empathic partner who makes time for others in need, and always looks for opportunities to recognize, support, or lift someone else! Through her work in Sales, Marketing, and as a leader in the company, her communication in and out of the company and in all mediums, whether giving speeches, running a meeting, crafting an email, or interacting on workplace or Facebook, Sarah always puts everything she has into her communication and is masterful!
