

ADELE GENTILE

SUPERLATIVE WINNER

Each year, each partner has the opportunity to vote for those they feel should receive the individual Superlative awards. This year, Adele Gentile received the most votes in the company for the value of Learning.

From hustling at staking, to learning product processes on the fly, to scheduling coloring, during and after Vanessa Ninneman and Larissa Groesbeck's leaves of absence - so many of us were so impressed by how fast and how much Adele learned in a fast year!

She gets high marks for her awesome communication, great work ethic, speed at learning, social skills, and comfort level with working her way through the company and across departments!

Larissa is a very proud team lead with two of her go to partners both earning our Learning superlative and being quite bright herself - we join her in celebrating loud and proud Adele, for this honor!

"Congratulations Adele! Super proud of you! Love and thanks Larissa Groesbeck for being such an awesome teacher for both of us to win this learning award back to back." - Marissa Strait

LEARNING

About This Superlative Award

The Learning Award is given to a partner who has an openness to new experiences, experiments, and ideas with willingness to embrace failure, try again, and spread knowledge.
