

BRETT VANNOSTRAND

SUPERLATIVE WINNER

This guy can flex!! Brett VanNostrand is a man of many talents and therefore, often gets pulled into a variety of different jobs at Townsend. On any given day you can find him doing sample requests, siding hides, cutting them on the Gerber, making costumes or props the Marketing team asks of him, wearing said costumes (as you can see he really loves costumes), assisting in department moves, going to get things on the ave, making furniture deliveries and pick-ups with Chuck, carrying things for any of us ladies, fixing things, grommeting samples, searching old files, and of course providing comic relief during a busy day with his great sense of humor.

Brett is the kind of Partner that will help anyone do any odd task that comes up, at the drop of a hat. He is remarkably dependable, creative, incredibly innovative and handy. All over the Sample Department and now The Stitch, you can find his ingenious, handmade solutions that make everyday tasks easier. Brett also flexes to fit in with many different personalities and teams to make everyone he works with feel happier and uplifted. He is always fully present in his day. Present and aware of what others are doing and looking to see where he can add value, help out, or make someone's day better or easier. This is very well deserved, Brett! Thank you for always brightening our days.

About This Superlative

Flexibility as a value means a partner will always step up, for work, for fellow partners, for where there is a need that will benefit the larger good and the company. This partner will shift their priorities in a minute, hour, day, week, month, or even years. No matter how busy they are, they make time to help others.
