

MEGAN KUCEL

2023 SUPERLATIVE WINNER

Congratulations to 2023's winner of our Get Shit Done Award, Megan Kucel! Megan stepped out of her usual Marketing focus and into the role of Quilting Department manager where she learned so much more about our quilting capabilities, best practices for running the machine, and creating custom patterns. In the months since she took this on, she produced over 50 quilted strike-off samples for customers and personally ensured delivery on time or even early for our customers' orders and schedules. Under her watch, we were able to double our quilting sales from the prior year. Megan threw herself into the job with lots of grit and determination and even more passion. We are so proud of her and feel much more confident in meeting our customers' needs for quality and fast turn times. Way to go, Megan!

"Meg has really taken ownership of quilting. Not only in drawing new designs for customers but working endless hours both at work and home figuring out measurements and expanding possibilities for perfining in house. On top of that still working with marketing and various events. She's always thinking of the future of the company."

"Megan kucel - bringing quilting to the next level not only by quilting but learning all aspects to from designing to quilting it to boxing it to ship and always trying new things for future orders and communicating with sales reps, the sky's the limit is definitely true with Megan."
