

Adele, you were recognized all over our survey, probably the only vote you didn't get was Joe Cool! As the heart of our Scheduling team, planning and communicating the work for both the Coloring and Finishing team is really important to our success! Doing all you can to make sure orders ship on time working with customer service and production simultaneously, while also ensuring productivity and efficiency to Tim and production leadership team, you do it so well!! Any partner who knows you will have as much praise for your focus, dedication, hard work, as much as they have for your witty, spontaneous, fun, and wiseass ways! You bring people together. You inspire others. You help many, and as confident as you are in your kickassery, you practice humility. Never taking credit for things rolling and working, you always are the first to say they did it, the sprayline guys, Kowalski, Blackwood, the color matchers, 2nd shift, whoever, you know it takes a village, a tribe. This tribe appreciates you. Congratulations for earning our Partner of the Year!!!!!!

"Adele Armstrong! This chick is not only a hard worker, but she also knows how to have fun. Even though her job is demanding and she is pulled in 100 different directions she always has a smile or something funny to say. She has done a fabulous job running the daily scheduling meetings and she really knows her stuff and everything that is going on! Adele I hope you know how amazing you are and I appreciate our friendship!! You can make me smile no matter what!!"
